

Launching of Russian website

Amelco Industries Ltd has launched a new website in Russian to enable its numerous existing and prospective Russian speaking customers to follow closely and easier the products and services offered by the company. The launch of the new website has taken place in October 2008.